CRITERIA FOR EVALUATION OF AFRICANA STUDIES PROGRAM MEMBERS APPLYING FOR TENURE AND PROMOTION

Written By: Africana Studies Program Faculty Donnetrice Allison, Chair Patricia ReidMerritt, Distinguished Professor Stockton University August 22, 2021

Preamble

The Africana Studies Programas founded in 1983 as a topical concentratinant later becamea certificate program. In 1998, it was officially listend the college bulletinas an interdisciplinary minorand remained as such for more than two decades. Given that the Africana Studies Program was one of the most active minor programs at the University, recognized on a national level due to the scholarshipd community activism produced by its contributing faculty, the program became a majoor of 2019. This document was developed in the summer of 2021, during the program's infanços a guide for neofeculty who will help to guide and shape the future of the program.

The Africana Studies Program Standaodstinesthe requirements for candidates seeking tenure and/or promotion. It is understood that these guidelines can be amended or modified depending on demands, changes or new expectations from the Program. The individual faculty plan will be created by new faculty in consultation with sefaculty. It is important that new faculty in a new program have clear, attainable gthratement the expectations of the iversity, school and program.

University Standards

According to University Standar, disaculty seeking tenure and promotioinly be evaluated on their achievements inteaching, scholarly and creative activity, and service, based on the following criteria.

6.1 Teaching

6.1.1 Performancein teachingcarriest in valiatia 3.717 0 Td () Tj 0.006 Tc -0.006 Tw 0.41

acquisition. Scholarly or creative activities may take matory and use different vehicles to communicate with the broad academic community

- 6.3 University and CommunityService
  - 6.3.1 The faculty role

6.1.2.4 Excellencein teaching also entails respect for students as members of the Stockton academic community, the effective response to student questions, and the timely evaluation of and feedbackto students.

Given that the Africana Studies is a new BA Progriatins important that new faculty emonstrate their ability to contribute to the growth of the program. One of the most important ways to do so is by capturing student interest in the classrobins also important that new Africana Studies faculty demonstrate their understanding topic principles of teaching from an Afrocentric perspective. New faculty must not only have a strong command of their specific course material but also of the field of Africana Studies and the must be able to clearly impart that knowledge to students.

Scholarly Activity

The University expects new faculty to demonstrate scholarly excellence in the following ways:

6.2.4.6.1

scholarly ones. Competitive selections well as presentations receiving disciplinary acknowledgement receiver should be noted. most disciplines arecord of scholarshipbased on presentations alone will not be evaluated shighly as one including refereed publications.

Again, Africana Studies faculty will have mortextibility with regard to university standard 6.2.4.6.4.Faculty members who are pursuing tenure in Africana Studies are encouraged to not

- 6.2.4.6.5Other forms of scholarly or creative activity that may appear in emerging scholarly or artistic media may be included as well, provided that comparable standards of peerreview can be applied to them.
- 6.2.4.6.6 Professional activities undertaken as a practitioner or consultant are considered scholarly activity when they go beyond the routine application of knowledge to the creation of new knowledge and the development of new standards for practice. Such qualities distinguish between scholarship and professional servicese making the judgmentsregarding the standards for applied research necessarily involve more than clients and include academic peers familiar with the area of practiceunderconsideration.

For Africana Studies scholars, this may include ducting workshop and presentation for various organizations wishing to educate their clientele on Africana history and culture.

6.2.4.6.7Grants or monetary awards that are funded or reviewed as fundable from governmentalor nongovernmental organizations are considered examples of scholarship 6.2.4.6.8 Faculty engaged in community outreach can make differencein the communities and beyond by defining or resolving relevant social problems or issues, by facilitating organizational development, by improving existing practices or programs, and by enriching the cultural life of the community. Scholarship may take the form of widely disseminating the knowledge gained in community based projects in appropriate professional venues in order to share its significance with those who do not benefit directly from the project.

Faculty of the Stockton University Africana Studies Program have a steerong of scholady excellence through the publication of umerousbooks, book chaptersjournal articles and presentations that uplift the field New facultymembers to the program are expected to contribute to the program's reputation through egular attendance and presentations at regional, national and international conference and through the publication of at leads tee book chapters or journal articles, with the understanding at the publication of a book by a reputable publisht eime for the tenure and promotion application would fully meet the criterias for book program.

Service

- 6.1.1 Evidence of effectiveness in University or community service may includesuch items as
  - 6.1.1.1 One or more instances when one has used one's professionaskills or knowledge for the benefit of the University, or of a non-University group or